

U.S. Troops Look On As Mexican Forces Fight

Commander of American Troops Crosses to Mexican Side When Stray Bullets Whistle Into El Paso, Texas, Wounding Six Year Old Boy—Federal Forces at Juarez Outnumbered By Rebels Whose Losses Are Heavy.

El Paso, Texas, March 8 (AP)—Brigadier General Van Horn Moseley today refused permission to General Matias Ramos to gather his Mexican Federal troops on the United States side of the international border for an attempt to recapture the City of Juarez from rebel troops.

General Ramos has established headquarters at the southern base of the international bridge across the Rio Grande where a small group of Federalists still were holding out. Firing was desultory.

Juarez, March 8 (AP)—General Matias Ramos, commander of the Federal troops in Juarez, refused permission to Brigadier General Van Horn Moseley of the United States to enter Juarez and confer concerning the firing into the United States. It is believed Ramos feared Moseley might be struck by a stray shot.

Juarez, March 8 (AP)—Streets of Juarez were reddened with blood today as Mexican rebel forces entered this border town and fiercely attacked the defending Federal troops. The desperate fighting was in plain view of the United States troops stationed across the Rio Grande in the southern part of El Paso, Texas, ready to protect American lives and property with machine guns and field artillery trained on the Mexican side.

The government troops, outnumbered four to one, were beaten back toward the international boundary. On the second attack Rebel cavalry charged down the principal streets.

Rebels in Almost Complete Control. Only a few scattered shots were coming from the guns of the Federal forces at 9:30. The rebels were in almost complete control. They captured the Customs House and issued a proclamation declaring there would be no looting and no impositions placed upon citizens.

Rebel forces occupied every strategic position and were beginning a banking movement against the last stronghold of the Federalists, a building isolated about 200 yards south of the Rio Grande.

The losses of the rebels, whose forces at the outset numbered some 2,000 men, were believed heavy. As the attackers mopped up the town, only two Federal posts with machine guns were known to be left. One was atop the old battle scarred mission church.

A rapid cross fire from the helmy held up the rebel advance temporarily.

Bullets Whistle Into U. S.

Brigadier General Van Horn Moseley, Commander of the American troops at Fort Bliss, crossed to the Mexican side when stray bullets began whistling into the United States.

He conferred with General Ramos, the Federal Commander who had retired to a locomotive standing only about 20 feet from the international bridge. The Federalists were retreating to the bridgehead in large numbers. The early attack upon the city was made by three separate rebel detachments, one from the northwest, a second from the east and the third from a detachment which moved upon the city in box cars.

After the lull in fighting the Federal Hospital started to fill with wounded. Twelve men were reported known dead and 12 wounded in the first rush, but it is believed the rebel losses were higher.

The rebels made a surprise attack against the city from the northwest under cover of an irrigation ditch, 200 feet from the international line. The Federalists sent their shots looting apparently in an effort to avoid shooting across the border. The rebels returned the fire with rifles as they moved into the city proper to get at hand to hand combat with the government troops.

The firing ceased at 6:40 o'clock and bugle sounds heard here gave rise to the belief that the town may have surrendered.

Stray Shot Injures American Boy.

El Paso, Texas, March 8 (AP)—A stray shot from Juarez today wounded an American boy in El Paso. His name is Louis Chavez, 6. Rebel cavalry charged down the streets of Juarez in what appeared to be their most powerful offensive for control of the important northern railroad center and port of entry. It was during this thrust that stray shots reached the American side of the border.

The Mexican consul here and a Mexican army aviator prepared to take off from El Paso in a plane bought by the Mexican government here yesterday. The plane will be used in an attempt to bomb the main body of the rebel troops.

El Paso Sees Fighting Start.

The start of the fighting was plainly visible from El Paso. The heaviest firing was 10 blocks away from the thickly populated district of South El Paso. The gun fire

Steamer Was Fast In Rondout Creek

High Wind Lowered Water in Creek So That the Newburgh on Way to Dock Became Stuck in Mud in Mid Stream—Released at High Tide.

So low was the water in the Rondout creek early this morning that the steamer Newburgh, of the Central Hudson line, as she steamed into the creek on the way to her dock ran aground on the mud and became imprisoned in midstream, just off the shipyard dock in Ponckhockie. The steamer was unable to release herself until high tide which floated her off the mud bank, and she finally reached her dock in the rear of Ferry street about 10 o'clock. The vessel was not damaged and left later in the day for New York city.

A very high wind blew during Thursday night and it swept such a volume of water out of the creek that it became very low. Just off the shipyard dock, about in midstream, there is a mud bank and it was on this bank that the Newburgh ran aground owing to the low water.

As the Newburgh became fast in the mud and was unable to release herself it was decided best not to attempt to operate the ferry Transport, which, owing to the low water, would have had considerable difficulty in getting by the imprisoned steamer. For that reason the early morning trips of the ferry were made by the tug Rob, which is a much smaller boat than the ferry and had no difficulty in passing the Newburgh while it was fast in midstream.

The water in the Rondout creek this morning was the lowest it has been in some time and was due to the high wind that swept over this vicinity Thursday night.

Lindbergh Again A Goodwill Flier

Mexico City, March 8 (AP)—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, who has only just regained the use of his right arm, injured in the crash-up of his airplane here more than a week ago after a pleasure flight with his fiancée, is back in his favorite role of a goodwill flier.

President Portes Gil today was to turn from his active direction of the war against the insurgents to christen the tri-motored plane in which the Colonel will inaugurate the airmail service between this city and Brownsville, Texas.

The flight will be made tomorrow, starting at 7:45 a. m. Lindbergh will carry as passengers Juan Guillermo Villanueva, chief of the civil aviation section of the department of communication, and probably two local newsmen.

Since the aviator is expected to make the return flight with the mail on Sunday, he will be away from his fiancée, Miss Anne S. Morrow, for only two days. Both continued to protest that they have set no date for their wedding as yet.

The territory which the Colonel will cross has not been directly affected by the revolution.

roused the town and there was much excitement here.

The Federal machine gun fire took a heavy toll. Bodies could be seen from this side of the border, sprawled on the pavement of Sixteenth of September street, one of the main thoroughfares of Juarez.

As the firing continued, the belief that the city had surrendered waned. Fifteen of the civilian volunteer defenders of Juarez threw down their guns and made a wild dash for the international bridge when the battle opened. They were halted on the American side of the bridge and arrested by United States border patrolmen. Their ammunition was confiscated and they were taken away.

Rebels Captured Fort.

The rebel troops captured Fort Hidalgo in Juarez, but were repulsed with five killed when they attacked the headquarters of General M. Ramos, commanding the Federal troops on top of the Hotel Rio Bravo.

Rockefeller Wins Indiana Oil Fight

Col. Stewart Ousted as Chairman of Board by Vote Whose Size Surprised His Adversaries—Retires On $75,000 a Year Pension.

Whiting, Ind., March 8 (AP)—Edward G. Seibert today replaced Colonel Robert W. Stewart as head of the $900,000,000 Standard Oil Company of Indiana.

Mr. Seibert, who has been president of the company, was not given Stewart's office as chairman of the board, that post having been abolished at the directors' meeting yesterday. Instead, he was named executive officer, with authority similar to that exercised by Colonel Stewart.

The forces representing John D. Rockefeller, Jr., which controlled yesterday's annual stockholders' meeting at which Col. Stewart was removed from the board of directors, made no attempt to name Stewart's successor as executive. They were interested only, they explained, in removal of Col. Stewart, whom Mr. Rockefeller had regarded as "morally unfit" to continue direction of the business.

Surprised at Size of Defeat.

The Stewart defeat had been freely predicted, but the size of it was a surprise. When the vote was counted, the result was:

Shares voted for Mr. Rockefeller, 5,510,515.

Shares voted to Colonel Stewart, 2,954,986.

Thus was Colonel Stewart's 11 years' service as executive head of the corporation ended. Colonel Stewart himself presided, and when the result was announced—a defeat more sweeping than even his adversaries had dreamed—he smiled.

The tellers had completed their count. Colonel Stewart looked upon the nearly 1,000 stockholders who had been drawn to the meeting by the spectacular tilt between the younger Rockefeller and himself.

"Let's have the news," said Colonel Stewart. "It may be bad news to some of us, but I am sure we will all take it—standing up."

The tellers reported, and Col. Stewart himself, without a sign of tremor or emotion, announced the result.

Winthrop W. Aldrich of New York, brother-in-law of John D. Rockefeller, Jr., and his personal representative in the fight against Stewart, was on his feet instantly, with congratulations on Colonel Stewart's fairness in the conduct of the meeting.

Result Was Paradox.

In a way, the result was a paradox. The vote was nearly two to one against Col. Stewart, but the individual shareholders stood two to one behind him, viz:

Shareholders for John D. Rockefeller, Jr., 15,204.

Shareholders for Colonel Stewart, 31,336.

Only 17 of the 7,901 employee-stockholders voted against Col. Stewart. It was announced.

"It would be idle for me to say I leave the Standard without regret," said the 62-year-old Stewart. "His affairs have been my very life. I have seen it grow under the present administration from a $167,000,000 corporation with 4,620 stockholders to practically a billion dollar corporation with 56,293 stockholders. One cannot dissociate himself from such an intimacy without a wrench."

Colonel Stewart, by reason of his 22 years' service with the company is entitled to an annual pension of approximately $75,000. His salary as chairman of the board was $125,000 a year.

Coolidge Reveals Personal Sorrow

New York, March 8 (AP)—In his first magazine article Calvin Coolidge reveals that sorrow took from him the power and glory of being President.

Calvin Coolidge, Jr., died July 7, 1924, of blood poisoning which resulted from an injury suffered while playing tennis on the White House courts.

An article by his father in the Cosmopolitan says:

"We do not know what might have happened to him under other circumstances, but if I had not been President he would not have raised a blister on his toe, which resulted in blood poisoning, playing lawn tennis in the south grounds.

Plea to Support Jewish Center in Downtown Section

Speakers Point Out Value of Center at Largely Attended Meeting—Support of Organization Urged as Matter of Public Necessity.

The downtown Jewish Community Center was filled to capacity Thursday night when prominent speakers pointed out the benefit of the organization, which seems to be wanting, to the community at large and especially to those of Jewish faith.

First to speak was B. Silverman, chairman of the mass meeting, who outlined the purpose of the gathering before introducing Rabbi Morris Rose of the Temple Emanuel. Rabbi Rose's talk had to do with the financial part of conducting the Community Center. He pointed out that an amount not to exceed $5,000 would be sufficient to cover running expenses for a year. This would include janitor service and the salary of a competent director. The rabbi spoke very highly of the Community Center head, Milton Katz.

Counselor Herman Silverman of New York city, a brother of the meeting's chairman, was the principal speaker of the evening. His address was an eloquent one which clearly depicted the values of the Jewish religion. Although an American-born youth, Mr. Silverman adheres strictly to the Jewish orthodox religion, keeping the Sabbath and observing all rules laid down by the faith.

In the course of his address he made numerous Hebrew quotations, manifesting his thorough knowledge of the religion. He demonstrated conclusively the reason for the failure of many Jewish Community centers, which he attributed to the practice of trying to imitate other institutions that specialize in sports only.

Counselor Silverman said the history of the Jew places him in a peculiar position. "The Jews' greatness is not in his physical strength, but in his spirit. He hoped that in the future the aim would be to strengthen the Jewish spiritual life in this community. He said many are proud of the fact that they are born Jews, but cautioned his hearers that they should understand the reason for their pride.

Samuel Stern appealed to the meeting and urged that the Community Center be so liberally supported that aid would not have to be sought throughout the community.

A social hour was enjoyed after the meeting, during which refreshments were served.

Judge G. H. Smith Died At His Home

Supreme Court Justice Smith of Monticello Died at Home There—First Appointed by Governor Smith, and Was Elected to Office Last Fall.

Supreme Court Justice George H. Smith died at 11 o'clock this morning at his home in Monticello after an illness of some duration. Judge Smith was appointed to the Supreme court bench by former Governor Alfred E. Smith, and at last November's election became the Democratic candidate to succeed himself in which he was successful. He had held Supreme court sessions at the court house here and was held in high esteem not only by the legal fraternity but by all who came in contact with him.

Judge Smith was of Dutch-Huguenot stock and of Revolutionary ancestry and a direct descendant of Col. Johannes Hardenbergh, who was among the early Dutch settlers of the Rondout valley and commander of the Fourth Ulster County Regiment during the Revolutionary War. He was born at Woodbourne, Sullivan county, and was a product of the schools of the county. He was a graduate of the Liberty Normal Institute, where in 1883 he received his diploma as one of the youngest graduates of that institution. He taught school for three years and later entered Albany Law School where he later was graduated with honors.

In 1892 he was nominated by the Democrats for county judge and surrogate for the term of six years, and was elected to succeed himself. It was said of him at that time that he was the youngest county judge in the state. He served four terms, or 24 years as county judge of Sullivan county.

On December 3, 1927, Governor Smith appointed Judge Smith to fill the vacancy on the Supreme court bench caused by the resignation of Judge Joseph Rosch of Sullivan county, and in November of last year he was elected to succeed himself.

He is survived by one brother.

STEAMER LEVIATHAN HAD STORMY CROSSING

Cherbourg, March 8 (AP)—After one of the worst eastbound crossings in her history, the United States liner Leviathan will make a quick turnaround, sailing for the United States tomorrow.

Four passengers were slightly hurt and many were bruised when a giant wave struck the liner while the dance floor was crowded, broke a porthole cover and swept away a lifeboat.

Despite headwinds and heavy seas the vessel made the crossing in slightly more than six days at an average speed of 31.38 knots.

Plaintiff Loses In Negligence Suit

Accident at Napanoch Results in Damage Suit in Supreme Court—Defendant Claims Suit Should Have Been Brought Against Another Party.

Lorin Osterhout of Highland was awarded $188.45 for damages sustained to his car last June when it was struck by a car driven by Mrs. Anna E. French. The case was tried in Supreme court Thursday morning and was undecided. John F. Wallin appeared for the plaintiff.

No. 293, an action to foreclose a mechanic's lien brought by Jesse J. Weeks against Ira I. Stomon, was transferred to county court by stipulation and stricken from the calendar of Supreme court.

Testimony in the action in negligence brought by Charles Johnson of Ellenville against William Davis Hawk of this city was taken during the afternoon and the plaintiff's case was in when court adjourned.

Johnson, who is an elderly man, was injured while driving his horse and buggy along the highway at Napanoch at Kelder's store on April 2, 1928. As he approached Kelder's corner at the junction of the Napanoch-Monticello highway where Clinton street intersects, he was driving to the extreme right of the road, according to all witnesses. His horse was on the shoulder of the road and only the two left wheels were on the pavement. As the corner was approached Mr. Johnson, who was driving from Monticello to Napanoch, suddenly was thrown from his wagon, striking the wheel as he went out. Two ribs were broken and he was injured about the head. He does not know what struck his wagon as he was rendered semi-conscious.

Witnesses Tell What Happened.

Other witnesses testified that a car of Mr. Hawk, driven by John C. Hummel, had attempted to pass the rig to its left and as he was passing, a coal truck owned by Flickestein of Ellenville and driven by George Tremper rounded the corner from Clinton street into the main highway on its way up the hill to the paper mill with a load of coal. The truck was to its right side of the road. The rig of Hawk attempted to pass between the rig of Johnson and the coal truck and while so doing the two automobiles came together. The left rear fender of the Hawk car struck the left front fender of the Chevrolet coal truck and caused the coal truck to run across the road and strike the wagon of Johnson. The Hawk car was stopped some distance beyond.

Plaintiff claims that the operator of the Hawk car was negligent in attempting to pass at that point.

Blames Driver of Coal Truck.

The defense to the action is a charge that Hawk's car was not at fault but that the driver of the coal truck was at fault and the accident was caused by the negligent manner in which the truck came around the corner. The defendant alleges that both his driver and Mr. Johnson were free from negligence but that Tremper drove his car in such a manner as to cause the accident. Defendant claims that the owner of the coal truck and not Mr. Hawk should be the defendant in the action. It is the contention of the defendant that Tremper shooting the gas to the truck as he rounded the corner was not taking proper precautions and was the sole cause of the accident.

Mr. Johnson sustained two fractured ribs and a cut on his head. He testified he was a carpenter by trade and was paid $5 a day. He claims to have been laid up for several weeks and asks pay for 10 weeks' time in addition to damages and doctor's bill.

This morning the complaint was dismissed against Mr. Hawk on the ground that no connection was shown to prove the negligence of his driver. Vernon Kelder with Chris J. Flanagan appear for the plaintiff and John W. Eckert appears for the defendant.

X-Ray Sessions At Benedictine

Doctors and technicians of the city and county are extended an invitation by the management of the Benedictine Hospital to attend educational sessions to be conducted by the Victory X-Ray Corporation at the Benedictine on Monday and Tuesday of next week. The sessions will be held in the morning from 9 to 12 and in the afternoon from 2 to 5 o'clock.

X-Ray sessions have been held in hospitals in New York city and have been very largely attended by the medical profession from the entire state. The inconvenience of making the trip to New York is believed to have prevented many doctors from attending these sessions and it was decided to select centers in up-state New York for this work. Kingston was chosen for this district and the Benedictine Hospital for the sessions.

Two More Directors.

DeWitt & Broadhead, real estate and insurance agents, Fair street, have been certified to the Ulster county clerk that the number of directors of the corporation has been increased from three to five.

Judge Holmes 88 Years Old.

Washington, March 8 (AP)—Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes received the congratulations of his associates at the Supreme court, and other friends today on his 88th birthday.

Public Service Commission Denies Petition of Railroad to Abandon Whiteport Station on Walkkill Valley Railroad—Decision Made Thursday.

The Public Service Commission on Thursday handed down a decision in the application of the New York Central Railroad for permission to abandon the railroad station of the Walkkill Valley Railroad at Whiteport, denying the application, which had been opposed by County Attorney Robert G. Groves, who had represented the town of Rosendale at the hearing which was held in December before Commissioner George R. Lunn.

At the hearing that had been held in December at Albany on the railroad's application evidence had been submitted to the commission by Supervisor Oliver Keator, of the town of Rosendale, and William Duff, representing some of the interests of Whiteport, showing that the station was needed there.

While in Albany on Thursday attending the rehearing in the Broadway crossing elimination, County Attorney Groves was informed by the commission that it would hand down a decision later that day denying the application of the railroad for permission to abandon the Whiteport station.

Mrs. Bailey Seeks $10,000 Damages

Against L. B. Van Wagenen Company For Injuries Sustained In Fall Through Elevator Trap-door on Sidewalk.

Following the non-suit in the Charles Johnson vs. William Davis Hawk action in Supreme court Thursday afternoon a jury was selected in a negligence action brought by Mrs. Grace E. Bailey of Rhinecliff against the L. B. Van Wagenen Company.

Mrs. Bailey seeks to recover $10,000 damages for injuries sustained on March 29, 1928, when she fell through the elevator trap-door on the sidewalk in front of the store. At the time of the accident she and her mother were on their way home from the last evening performance at Reade's music hall on Wall street. It was raining at the time and they were carrying an umbrella. As they walked past the street and over the iron doors which cover the elevator shaft in some manner unknown to them the doors gave way and they were thrown down into the shaft. One of the doors only gave way and they were suspended in the opening with their heads and shoulders outside the shaft and their feet suspended some distance from the elevator which was at the bottom of the shaft. Mrs. Bailey claims she was injured about the body and arm and alleged that her left breast was injured. Dr. Cookingham, who attended her the second day following her injury, was unable to say with reasonable certainty whether the injury was of a serious permanent nature or not. The plaintiff alleges that there is an indication of a serious malignant growth in the region and complaints of pain and inability to do her usual heavy work about the farm where she resides. Immediately after the accident she was attended by Dr. John J. O'Leary, deceased, and on her return home she was treated by Dr. Cookingham. Dr. F. A. Johnston also examined plaintiff in company with Dr. Cookingham last December. It is the contention of the defendant that Mrs. Bailey suffered no serious permanent injury by reason of the fall. It is admitted that there was an accident and that Mrs. Bailey fell through a defective trap-door but the defendant denies injuries of a serious nature which would justify the $10,000 action.

How the accident happened is not known or what caused the door to give way and the defendant while admitting that the accident happened and the plaintiff was injured to some extent claims no knowledge of who is responsible for the accident, claiming that for years the doors existed as they were on the night of the accident and that many people had just passed over the door suddenly gave way.

N. H. Fessenden with M. O. Auchmoody of counsel appears for plaintiff and John W. Eckert appears for the defendant.

Represented City and County.

The representatives of the city present at the hearing were Mayor E. J. Dempsey, Corporation Counsel Harry H. Flemming, City Engineer G. Wallace Codvick and Aldermen Fred M. Dassel and John E. Hull of the railroad committee of the common council.

County Attorney Robert G. Groves appeared in behalf of the county of Ulster.

Max Baker of this city was also present at the hearing.

Railroad Was Represented.

The New York Central railroad was represented by Attorney F. L. Wheeler and John G. Brennan, grade crossing engineer, and Judge Amos Van Eilen of this city.

Business Men Represented.

Attorney J. Edward Conway appeared in behalf of the Central Business Association, and joined with the city and county in urging that the matter be deferred until the proposed survey could be made.

Flemming Spoke for City.

Corporation Counsel Flemming was the first speaker, and he filed with the commission a map of the city showing not only the Broadway crossing but the six other railroad crossings. He stated that it was the contention of the city and county that in addition to the plans for depressing Broadway which had been submitted to the commission, that a plan and estimate of cost should also have been submitted for the depressing of the railroad tracks.

He said he believed that some plan should be worked out which would not retard the future growth of the city. Broadway was the principal avenue of traffic in the city, while the Foxhall avenue crossing carried the main traffic from Albany. Mr. Flemming called attention to the fact that at all of the hearings that had been held on the crossing elimination, the city and county were not in favor of depressing Broadway, and that speaking for the city he believed the residents of Kingston were entitled to have a plan submitted showing the cost of depressing the tracks.

Mr. Flemming said the city and county believed that no action should be taken until such a plan was submitted. He said the city felt that the railroad and also the state should cooperate in obtaining this survey and estimate of cost, but if the commission was of the opinion that the railroad and state should not cooperate, the city and county were ready to proceed and submit such a plan.

Mr. Flemming said the city was of the opinion that the matter should not be finally determined and that an order should not issue until a plan for the depressing of the tracks had been prepared.

County Concurred With City.

County Attorney Robert G. Groves said the position of the county of Ulster was the same as taken by the city, and that instead of explaining the county's position verbally he would submit the following brief for the consideration of the commission. The brief submitted by Mr. Groves reads as follows:

The proceeding in question is brought for the purpose of accomplishing the elimination of the railroad-highway grade crossing in the city of Kingston at the point where the tracks of the New York Central Railroad Company, as lessee of the West Shore Railroad Company,

Big Wildcat Fights Four Dogs and Man

LEWIS, Va.—"Big Four," a giant catamount hunted for weeks in the fastness of the Blue Ridge mountains by hunters and dogs, was killed recently by "Big" Atkins, living on top of the ridge, after one of the most thrilling half-hour battles between dogs and wildcat ever staged in these parts.

The battle took place in a deep ravine in the mountains where Atkins and his four dogs, chasing the animal, came upon him and the dogs were attacked. For a half hour the fight between the dogs and the wildcat raged, with the dogs getting the cat down. Atkins directed the pack repeatedly, hoping to strike the cat a fatal blow with a club.

Suddenly he sank his fangs into the neck of one of the dogs, killing it; another dog was seriously wounded, while the other two, with their owner, were badly scratched and lacerated. Atkins finally struck the cat a blow, stunning him. A second blow was necessary to kill.

TELLS HUSBAND HE CAN REMARRY

Unusual Sacrifice of Invalid Comes to Light.

Senatobia, Miss.—One of the most unusual cases of romance and sacrifice that ever came to light in this section was revealed here when Inez Sneed, an invalid and former school teacher, filed a claim for a wife's share in the estate of Charles T. Bowden, who shot and killed himself recently. Attached to Miss Sneed's claim was a marriage certificate showing that she had wed Bowden more than a year ago.

According to the former teacher, she and Bowden were married while she was teaching and they agreed to keep the union a secret until the school term was ended. Shortly afterwards she was thrown from a horse and was severely injured.

Bowden, she said, obtained the medical aid for her, but to no avail and all the doctors told her she would remain an invalid for the rest of her life.

Meantime Bowden had met and loved another girl. He told his wife of this infatuation and she acquiesced in his plans to marry again.

"I agreed," Miss Sneed said. "I told him the doctors told me I would never recover. I told him that our dear romance could be buried forever as far as I was concerned and that he was at liberty to find happiness wherever he could."

Three days before Bowden's second marriage was to take place he fired a bullet through his head while crouched on a creek bank which runs through his estate. His latest love knew nothing of the former marriage.

Bowden had brooded for weeks over his predicament and finally decided to end his own life.

Miss Sneed's parents were ignorant of their daughter's marriage until she filed the claim for a share in Bowden's estate.

Uses God and Bible to

Keep Son Out of School

New York:—God agreed with her that her children should not go to school, Mrs. Christine Walling of Port Monmouth, N. J., told Judge Jacob Steinback recently, but the trust of fear won.

The judge found Mrs. Walling guilty of neglecting her children in failing to provide for their education, but deferred sentence temporarily in the hope that Mrs. Walling could settle with her God and have her sons, James, fourteen, and Frank, eleven, sent back to school.

Mrs. Walling, with her Bible in hand, told the court why she had not allowed her children to go back this term. Light had come to her and she realized that studying the subjects was evil.

Drawing was a sin because the Bible says, "Thou shalt not make unto thyself any graven image." Mrs. Walling contended. Because the pages of history are "splattered with blood and God forbids taking human life," history also was an evil subject, she said.

Reading, writing and arithmetic Mrs. Walling said she taught in her own home. Geography she taught from a book of 1893.

Mrs. Walling is one of a group of religious men and women of Port Monmouth who have broken from the organized church on the basis that they can interpret the Bible.

Plane Propeller Cuts
Tail Off Cow in Field

Pana, Ill.—Richard Lemon, flying instructor at the Pana airport, in making a landing with two Pana business men in a ten-acre field north of Nokomis, six miles west of Pana, cut off a cow's tail with the airplane propeller, which he brought back to Pana as evidence of his unusual experience.

Bessie was lying down in the field and became frightened at the machine skimming along the ground, and ran directly in front of it. Aside from the loss of her tail, she was uninjured.

Orange Production
 The United States is the leading orange-producing country in the world. The output averages more than $4,000,000 boxes annually. California produces 67 per cent of the total, Florida, 32 per cent, and Alabama, Arizona, Louisiana, Mississippi and Texas together account for the remaining 1 per cent.

Fewer Deaths From Violence

Homicides Among Wage-earners of United States Also Decrease—Suicide Rate Identical For Past Two Years.

New York, March 8 (Special):—Although stories of racketeer killings and gang feuds are still appearing on the front pages of the newspapers with startling regularity, until the impression has gained ground that murder is on the increase, the number of homicides among the wage-earners of the United States showed a decided decrease in 1928, as compared with 1927. The homicide rate among the 18,590,000 industrial policyholders of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company dropped to 6.7 per 100,000 for 1928, contrasted with a rate of 7.4 in 1927.

The suicide rate, 8.4 per 100,000, has been identical for the past two years, but the prospect of the country has made it more desirable to hold onto life, if a decline of 24.5 in this rate since 1911 can be taken as an indication.

All fatal accidents, considered as a group, among this class of the population, caused 11,127 deaths in 1928, with a death rate of 61.2, a 4.1 per cent decline as compared with 1927, and a drop of 26.8 per cent over 1911. Accidental falls, machinery accidents and railroad accidents all recorded lower death rates than in the preceding year, and registered large declines over the rates in evidence seventeen years ago.

There was no change in the death rate for accidental burns in 1928, but that year shared with 1927 the distinction of registering the lowest mortality ever recorded from this cause of death. Accidental drownings increased, but the death rate from this cause is also much lower than during the preceding decade.

Deaths from violence of all types in 1928 numbered 12,664 with a death rate for the year of 76.5 as compared with 79.9 in 1927.

There was no change in the death rate for accidental burns in 1928, but that year shared with 1927 the distinction of registering the lowest mortality ever recorded from this cause of death. Accidental drownings increased, but the death rate from this cause is also much lower than during the preceding decade.

"My Thirty Years at Sea"

By CAPTAIN GEORGE FRIED

Men of the sea are no different fundamentally than those ashore and promotion or failure as a seaman depends solely on the man himself. Fried compares a ship's organization with that of a big corporation, both dependent upon the same essentials for success.

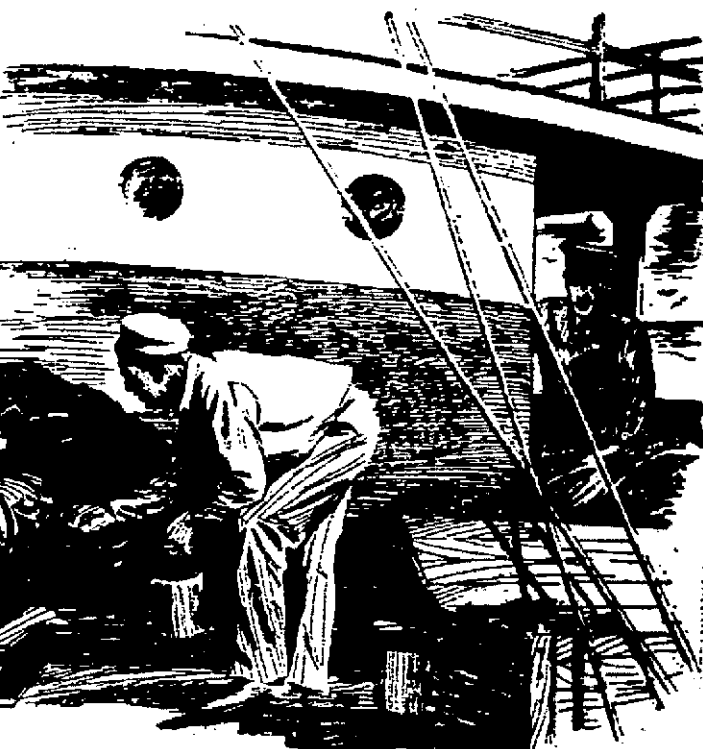

By CAPT. GEORGE FRIED. Copyright, 1923, Associated Press.

CHAPTER XI.

I have been asked what part I have played in making rescue at sea as captain of a vessel. My answer is that I do comparatively little when the whole job is considered. A ship is very much like a big building that houses a large business organization of several hundred men. Unless that organization functions smoothly and with men of ability in the ranks, it is doomed as a commercial failure.

A vessel is no different. The captain is indeed like the president of a big corporation. He cannot supervise the work of everyone in the organization as he deals directly with the heads of the departments. One of my rules is to keep every one busy.

ship board for a lazy man. The men we meet at sea are no different from those we find ashore. They have the same characteristics but are developed along different lines. Success or failure in life, whatever the rotation, depends solely on the man himself. About a year ago, a young man from an orphanage who had a desire to go to sea after a brief experience on a farm, came to me. He was 17 years old, good looking and smart. I signed him on as a seaman. He did not know it but I was keeping my eye on him. He was ambitious. He was a big husky lad and took all jobs as they came. He was always in the company of sailors while off watch and ashore. He apparently enjoyed their company. He was open. Soon he was ready for promotion and by the end of the year he was a quartermaster. Now he is learning navigation. I have seen men—coal passers, firemen, oilers, deck hands—go up the ladder just as I have done and like hundreds of other officers have done. Therefore, it is not as difficult to get a crew into shape today as in former years when men who worked on sailing ships did not have the same opportunities to advance. However, at the end of almost every while on watch and to create the impression that a certain amount of work must be done in a given time. This work must be done in ship shape order and in seaman-like manner. Every man must be an example for the next to watch so that the master is surrounded by executives when I say I did comparatively little as my share of a rescue job I mean that every man on the ship has a duty to perform and we all assist one another.

He didn't know it, but I was keeping my eye on him

It is not often that I come in direct contact with many of the men employed on my ship, with the possible exception of those engaged in duties on the bridge. The safe navigation of the vessel depends upon the men in this department, yet strange to say, one of the laziest men I believe I have ever encountered was a quartermaster on one of my ships. At the particular time I happened to see him at work he did not have enough energy to turn the wheel and keep the ship on the prescribed course. He had no excuse to offer me for his laxity except that he was too tired. And I knew of no reason to be tired when the watch was four hours on and eight off. This man, new at the business of being a quartermaster, was of course dispirited, for we have no place on voyage of a transatlantic liner several men are discharged for incompetency. Some leave for other reasons, so there is a constant weeding out and replacement process to keep a crew up to the maximum of efficiency. These changes are in the hands of the department heads and are seldom brought to the attention of the captain. Every ship has three departments—the deck, engineering and steward departments. Modern day machinery has become so complicated that the chief engineer now has as many responsibilities as the master. In the deck department rests the responsibility for the safe navigation of the vessel, for its safety equipment, and the radio room, where operators are constantly on watch while at sea. They are responsible also for the radio compass and are called on to work this instrument in conjunction with the calculations of officers on the bridge. The largest group, from the standpoint of personnel, is the steward's department, which is responsible for the feeding of the voyagers. The purser's department is headed by the purser and his assistant, who act as paymasters and do all clerical work.

DANGER OF TONSIL STUMPS.

When you read of the record of 48,000 school children, 20,000 of whom had their tonsils removed, you naturally want to learn of the improvement or lack of improvement in comparing the two groups.

At first you will be greatly disappointed because from the standpoint of rheumatic fever, joint pains, or growing pains there was 8 per cent in those whose tonsils were removed, and 19 per cent in those with tonsils. Not a great difference.

However Dr. A. D. Kaiser found that heart ailments developed less often in those with tonsils removed.

However there is a factor that has been overlooked in this matter. Drs. Paul S. Rhoads and George F. Dick, Chicago, say "our experience with patients who have had their tonsils removed has led us to the belief that the disappointing results that follow the removal of tonsils may often be due to the fact that the tonsils were not completely removed. We had several patients who were not benefited by the removal of their tonsils, but who did improve strikingly after the removal of infected pieces of tonsil left from their first operation. In the routine examination of nurses entering two of our hospitals we have found fairly large pieces of tonsillar tissue remaining in 290 of 492 (73 per cent) of those whose tonsils had been removed." That these "tonsil stumps" cause trouble was proven by 23 cases followed in less than a year, in every one of which it was thought necessary to remove the stump, and in which improvement resulted in all whom we were able to follow.

In fact the infective organisms were found to be more numerous in stumps than in whole tonsils. What is the point? That where tonsils have been removed and symptoms persist you should have the throat examined to see if a part of the tonsil is still present. When 73 per cent of nurses were found to have tonsil stumps some years after tonsils were removed, it is likely that stumps are present in a good number of other people whose tonsils have been removed.

MAN THRIVES WITH HIS STOMACH OUT

Surgical Marvel Performed in England.

London.—A man can live and thrive without a stomach, provided that not too many of the pancreatic glands are cut away. This has been proved by an operation of removing the stomach and stitching the upper part of the small intestine to the gullet, performed in the Baxley hospital in Leeds and now reported in the British Medical Journal.

The man on whom the operation was carried out was in such a condition that the removal of the stomach gave him his only chance of life. The doctors decided to give him that chance, and cut away the stomach bit by bit until it was completely removed.

As some of the pancreatic glands could be saved, the patient was not without digestive juices and soon could take nourishment. After 24 hours he took some water, and the quantities were gradually increased. Then milk and tea were added and at the end of 10 days he could have as much food as he asked for. Solid food was taken at the end of a fortnight.

After a month the man was out of bed and eating ordinary food, though in small quantities and often. An X-ray examination after five months showed that the operation was entirely successful, and at present the patient appears to be in good health and able to do a reasonable amount of work. He enjoys his food. The operation is regarded as a surgical marvel.

Gold Seekers Will Take Canoes in Air

New York.—Canoes as airplane equipment will be used for the first time next summer when the Dominion Explorers, Ltd., begin their projected four-year aerial gold exploration of the Canadian Northwest.

Capt. Charles Sutton, chief pilot, who came here to purchase three more cabin monoplane for the explorers' caravan, told how preparatory work with four pontoon-fitted planes last summer demonstrated the advantage of taking canoes along for ready transportation on the lakes and streams.

Captain Sutton plans to test canoe-carrying under practical conditions here within two weeks.

Another flying innovation is a special pontoon with which Sutton is having his planes equipped.

With double bottoms built into them, the pontoons are provided with a longitudinal water-tight compartment as a double protection against puncture. Should one of the surfaces become damaged against a submerged rock in landing on the uncharted lakes and streams, the pontoon would fill only half full of water and be enabled to take off again without emergency repair.

DANGEROUS STOMACH ULCERS

Result from Neglected Stomach Acidity. Too Often Treated as Indigestion. Watch These Symptoms.

Stomach trouble is bound to get worse if you don't treat it properly, and dangerous ulcers may form before you realize it. An excess of stomach acid causes gas, heartburn and indigestion, and sometimes the formation of the dreaded stomach lining. The fermented food then forms still more acid and makes a dangerous, vicious circle.

Merely to stop the pain of indigestion is not enough. Many simple remedies that kill the acid for full protection against the formation of ulcers are required. Stomach neutralizers remove acid instantly, and thus by removing the cause of the trouble, stop quick relief. But still more important, it works on the acid and prevents the more, inflamed stomach lining. Today take a trial package of Pleasant Magne-Bismil tablets or tablets from the nearest drug store. Either form will give almost instant relief.

Will Attend Y's Men's Convention

The Kingston Y's Men's Club at their regular meeting Tuesday evening at the "Y" tackled the line item in their competition contest with the Rotary and Kiwanis clubs, rolling up a percentage of attendance of 75.5.

There was a great enthusiasm when Captains Tom Rowland, Clarence Dumm, Clarence Wolfersteig, Arthur Quimby, Dr. Julian Gifford and Stanley Winne all reported their teams as 100 per cent present. Clarence Dumm remarked that there wasn't any lost, strayed or stolen members from his team this week and there wouldn't be any next week either.

The club added another new member to their roll when Seward Salisbury introduced Andrew J. MacNaught, Jr. He was given a real Y's Men's welcome into the fold.

A number of the fellows expect to attend the annual New York State Convention at Binghamton today and Saturday. International President E. J. McCoy will be the keynote speaker.

James Scott led the spirited singing with Dan Bittner at the piano. As a song leader the men decided that Jim was a decided hit but Jim modestly declared that he could do much better if he wasn't handicapped with a cold.

The meeting was turned over to the evening's entertainment committee consisting of G. Warren Kias and Henry B. Wesley and Kias acting as chairman in his usual fetching manner introduced the speaker of the evening, Henry F. Dunbar, member of the faculty of the Kingston High School, who gave a splendid address on vocational guidance, illustrating his address with the work that is actually being accomplished at the local high school. That this very instructive address was thoroughly enjoyed by the men was evidenced by the questions asked Mr. Dunbar at the close of his speech. Mr. Dunbar was given a rising vote.

Pays Tribute To Judge Smith

At the conclusion of the morning session of Supreme court today, Supreme Court Justice Staley announced the death of Judge George M. Smith of Monticello in the following remarks:

Many duties come and many responsibilities come in the course of days, weeks, months and years. There has come to me today a very sad duty and a very depressing responsibility.

I have to announce to the bar of this county and to this court that Justice George M. Smith passed on to eternal life at eleven o'clock this morning. His death removes from this community one who may highly be regarded as among its first citizens, a stalwart in his county like the stalwart oak in the forest who has for years withstood the storms and winds; a lawyer of great distinction; a judge who was highly honored by the people of this judicial district and who for many years discharged with distinction and with great credit the duties of judicial positions.

To meet him was to know him. To know him was to love him. By his death the bar, the judiciary of the state have lost an able, faithful and distinguished servant.

I therefore direct that the adjournment of this court at this time be in honor of Justice Smith's memory.

Court was thereupon adjourned out of respect to the memory of Justice Smith to Monday, March 11, at 2 p. m.

Before court was adjourned John W. Eckert asked Justice Staley to fix a date when the members of the Union county bar could take suitable action in memory of Justice Smith. Justice Staley said any time would be suitable for him and he would fix a date later.

Talks to Kiwanis Of Prison Life

Charles D. Van Orden, instructor at Dannemora Prison for Ten Years, described the class of inmates—Youths Predominate.

Charles D. Van Orden, for ten years instructor in Dannemora Prison, was the speaker at the Kiwanis Club luncheon Thursday, Paul Zucca, the "toss holder," suggested the singing of "Home, Sweet Home" as a fitting welcome to the speaker.

Mr. Van Orden described the class of convicts that are usually sent to that institution. The average age now is around twenty or a little over whereas a decade or two ago the age was nearer forty. Instead of the seasoned, hardened criminal you now find many a heedless youth, mostly the tough gangster, bred in the congested parts of the cities, the product of bad social surroundings. Some of these appear to have a criminal make-up; when their time has been served they will likely be back in a few weeks. Personal contact with these will enable a teacher to predict quite accurately their return.

A large element are foreigners who do not understand the language. Guilty, they have been advised to plead so before the court by their counsel when they often scarcely realize that the plea involves and to their dismay find themselves sent up for long periods.

Members Quiz Speaker. The meeting resolved itself, upon the speaker's suggestion, into a question bureau that proved to be most helpful and instructive. Some of the causes of youthful lapses, delinquencies, crimes were briefly discussed by Judge Joseph M. Fowler.

Dr. Boere asked the question as to whether or not Dannemora prison had many such erudite gentlemen as the warden of Sing Sing declared he had, affirming that he had men enough to compose a complete college faculty. The speaker answered that in his intimate, personal contact with convicts he discovered no such learning, but more frequently found that behind cunning and craft lay a pitiable illiteracy. A little quiz on the part of the instructor would invariably betray a woeful ignorance on the part of the pre-tending jail bird.

In the discussion the relationship between certain (and all too many) movies and youthful delinquency and crime was conceded. The spirit of greed on the part of the industry prompted the production of pictures that stimulate and instigate the tendency toward infractions of the law and feed the fires of immorality.

It was a good meeting full of enthusiasm and "pop." President Lou Doty called upon "Bob" Service to introduce the speaker. "Bob" has his eye on the position in Mayor "Jimmy" Walker's cabinet, left vacant by Grover Whalen when he was appointed police commissioner. "Bob" is great in introducing distinguished guests.

USED CAR SALE GIVES CUSTOMERS SATISFACTION

Remarkable values at exceptionally low prices, characterize the big Used-Car sale of Forsyth & Davis Motor Company, which draws to a most successful conclusion Saturday evening. A visit to their salesroom cannot fail to impress the visitor, with the enthusiasm displayed by the entire force, from the manager to the mechanics, and the smiling faces of the salesmen reflect the success of the largest sale of dependable used cars, ever attempted by this old and favorably known organization. Attractively displayed in all their glory of new Duco, new tires and the famous Good Will Guarantee, are cars of nearly every make and size known to motordom, from flivvers to Pierce-Arrows and from Stars to Moons, ranging in price from fifty dollars for the less pretentious jitneys to fifteen hundred for the masterful, aristocratic Pierce-Arrow.

Dame Fashion Smiles

By Grace Jewett Austin

Dear, dear, just hear all this new-style talk about long kid gloves—and white ones at that! Those are always a pest for those who live in a soft coal country. Do you suppose we ever will be patiently struggling again into six, eight—even ten-button-length ones? Or will it be just like the threats of skirts bustles and other monstrosities, where the prophecies do not materialize?

Dame Fashion has seen a number of hats lately that pleased her immensely, and which have that happy quality of some millinery—not all of being usable in several seasons and edges of seasons. For one thing, they seem to weigh about one ounce, and to be "light on the head" is to be extremely comfortable, with no connection at all with being "light-headed." These little cap-hats are compounded from lengths of belting ribbon, sometimes in shining black, sometimes in color with hints of metal threads interwoven. Some of them have the flash of a metal ornament at the side. They certainly do have an air.

The other day a pretty girl came in, her bright blondness effectively set off by a black sweater with white lines. "How becoming that is to you!"—it was quite the involuntary expression. She opened her eyes widely and said, "But it's too big for me—it's father's!" Then Dame Fashion proceeded to preach a small sermon on having things big enough. She told of a well-known actress whose mother was built on rather larger lines, and yet who declared that some of her greatest stage successes in the way of dressing had been gained when she was wearing her mother's clothes. She told of a friend who was pestered with a headache, and all it meant was a hat that was scarcely uncomfortable for tightness, and yet had been the unrealized cause.

Dame Fashion has been preaching the wearing of red with so much vigor that you can imagine her delight when she heard a description of a recent society wedding in a nearby city, with the bride conventionally gowned, but the matron of honor wearing American Beauty velvet; the maid of honor in red velvet bow in front; the company of bridesmaids in lavender chiffon and organdie gowns, all with large red taffeta bows on the backs of their dresses. While the hats for all of the attendants were alike, in American Beauty red shade. Even the organist, who arrived from a distant city to give a special musical program, wore powder blue combined with red, and like the others of the party, her flowers were red roses. If Dame Fashion had the luck to see such a bridal party as that enter, she might just shout "Hurrah!" right out loud.

And now, here is a picture of a popular actress, and the description says, "Note that she wears no hose." This positively will not become a universal fashion. Dame Fashion is just as sure about that, as the man was, back in the 1800s, who wrote a book to prove that iron ships would never cross the Atlantic, and later, copies of it came across in ships of that very type. But it is admitted that countessful of ankle-length hose for women and girls are being sold.

are in consequence better hatted than before. While the cloche is evidenced, especially among the younger set, brims, when they exist at all do all manner of arresting things and fly off on unexpected tangents, they sometimes give one the impression of starting out to be a tricorn, but wearing off the process after one point has been achieved. They frequently fold back on themselves, or on the crown and make no more pretense to be even than do skirts.

Belting ribbon and several other kinds have become important in the making as well as the trimming of hats. One wonders how far the pasted feather turban will get in its progress toward smartdom. White feather turbans, giving something the charm of a white wig are occasionally worn for evening, while colored ones, principally light navy are ever present.

ELEANOR GUNN ON FASHIONS

No Longer Fearing the Sun, Palm Beach Accepted the Turban

New York.—The successes of the Palm Beach season undoubtedly have a bearing on summer fashions although they are less inclined to affect those for spring. Town and resort clothes are things apart with only an occasional overlapping. This is evidenced by the close fitting hat. While enormous hats are not always a Palm Beach preference, a hat with a brim invariably is. Close fitting cloche shapes have, with capel lines swept all before them in previous seasons. Not so this. It has been the draped Crepe de Chine turban, the angora turban and the several skull cap effects which have registered although Miami clings rather persistently to the large hat. The brow and eye line has become of great importance, and a perfection of fit another. We are learning to be fitted for our chapeaux and Dashi; delegate to the Hudson Valley Volunteer Firemen's Association, J. Coniglia; alternate, Jose Suarez; delegate to State Firemen's Association, Nelson Snyder; alternate, Leo Slick; members of the law committee, Joseph Hadel, Edward Ryan; members of the law committee, L. One of the bills that has passed provides that all cities will have to carry liability insurance to indemnify the municipality on claims made by volunteer firemen injured in the performance of their duty. The association went on record as opposed to the bill now in the legislature aiming to take away the exemption from jury duty of volunteer firemen.

Only One Villager Survived Slide

Funchal, Madeira, March 8 (AP).—Only one inhabitant of the village of Vargem in Saint Vincent Parish, one of the most noted beauty spots in the islands, escaped the complete destruction which overtook the village in the form of a great landslide. Today only raw earth marked the site where white walled cottages had nestled in the natural flower garden of the hillside.

Below the village flowed the inferno river which was flooded by heavy rains. The waters gradually ate away the bank until the village collapsed and fell fifty feet into the whirlpools. The few witnesses heard the cries of the victims as masses of rock and earth with houses and other debris whirled off to the ocean.

Liquor for Every Third Passenger

U. S. Customs Men Search 400 Passengers on Liner Coming from Havana, Seize Liquor and Imposed Fines.

New York, March 8 (AP).—An extraordinary force of 122 customs men searched 400 passengers of the liner Shawnee, arriving today from Havana, seized large quantities of liquor and imposed fines aggregating $399. A fine of $5 for every large bottle found was imposed and $3 for each small one. In addition 200 bottles were found in cabbies but no fine was collected on them, as it was considered useless to try to find claimants.

The passengers were greatly surprised as they began to disembark. Ordinarily they would walk ashore with their baggage without a search, as their bags had been inspected by the customs at Miami.

To their amazement they were required to open their bags and trunks under the scrutiny of 40 members of the searching unit of the customs enforcement bureau and a squad of examining inspectors.

There were also eight men from the enforcement bureau on hand expressly to search the 30 automobiles waiting to be driven ashore by passengers.

The liquor was not destroyed. Customs officials calculated that every third passenger had a supply of liquor and there were as many women as men among the offenders.

Industrial Teams Stage Fast Games At "Y. M." Court

At the Y. M. C. A. court Thursday night three fast industrial League games were played. Brigham was defeated by the Schilling team 34 to 25, the Silk Mill trimmed the Artistics, 35 to 24 and the last game of the night was a big upset. The Central Hudson team fell before the Hercules quintet in the last few minutes, after they had held the upper hand throughout the contest.

The final tally of this game was Hercules, 31, Central Hudson, 25. In the first game between the Schillings team and the Brigham squad the Schilling men got the jump at the start. They held the lead by a safe margin in the first two quarters. On the other hand the Brigham team was doing very little scoring. At the end of the first quarter Schillings led, 12 to 3. In the second session Brigham collected 6 points to the Schilling team's 10, which made the score stand, 22 to 9 in Schilling's favor at half time.

The second half of the game the Schilling team lost no time when it came to scoring. They didn't gather as many points in this period as they did in the first but nevertheless they played good basketball. The third quarter ended with the tally still in the Schilling's favor, 27 to 23. In the last quarter Schillings held the Brigham team to a lone field while they corralled seven points. The final tally was Schillings, 34, Brigham, 25.

The Silk Mill, Artistic game was a hard fought battle. The Silk Mills stepped in the leading position in the early part and the Artistics trailed them throughout the entire game. The score at the end of the first quarter was in the Silk Mills' favor, 11 to 4. In the second quarter the Artistics did a little better scoring. They scored now and then, but they couldn't seem to keep their opponents from scoring. At half time the Silk Mills were still leading by a safe margin, 21 to 13. In the last two sessions the winners continued to hold the lead and the game ended with the score Silk Mills, 35, Artistics, 26.

The last game was a big upset. The Central Hudson team led all the way throughout, the first three quarters. It was in the last few minutes to play that the Hercules team won out. With the score 28-29, in the Central Hudson team's favor, Scott of the Hercules team made a foul which tied the score. Then with a minute and forty seconds to go Hercules sank a field which gave his team the game, 31 to 29.

Washington Club Faces Handicap

Tampa, Fla., March 7 (AP).—Walter Johnson, who spent 21 years in the ranks of the Washington Baseball Club, has returned to assume the post of commander in chief, facing an unusual handicap. The big fellow is held in such affection by his fellows it is possible they will be too enthusiastic in trying to win for him.

It may be the greatest danger facing the Senators in the coming campaign is pressing—a golf term for trying too hard.

The great central vote of baseball has cast solidly for Connie Mack for years, but the tall tactician may have to share it this season with the big train, for among the fans at large Walter Johnson remains one of the great idols of the game. The feeling extends to the Washington players and every one of the thirty athletes in the training camp wants to go out right now and die in a baseball game for "Good Old Barney."

Manager Johnson himself is paying strict attention to his pitchers. As one of the great mound stars of all time he is qualified to pass on pitching performances and certainly some of the younger school will be better for having passed under the tutelage of the old master.

Of the even dozen pitchers on hand more than half of the number are regarded as sure to stick with the other two or three places very much in doubt. Sad Sam Jones, Garland Braxton, Irving Hadley, Fred Marberry, Lloyd Brown, Adolph Liska and Paul McCullough promise to

A merry battle may be fought out among the rest. Bob Burke, a tall, but very thin left hander, who was on the club last year, needs more weight and Jim Weaver, six and one-half inches over six feet and scaling 230 pounds, has too much. If the giant Weaver absorbs instructions sufficiently to get the most from his pitching arm, he should uncover a "high, hard one," that will be difficult to punt much less hit. Weaver apparently needs schooling in fielding. He is so big he has difficulty in coordinating his hands and feet.

Mike Martin, the liniment king of the Washington training quarters, boasts that Weaver can unscrew the lights on the roof of a railway car while standing flat footed but in his brief baseball experience his success with bunts has not been so striking.

Liska, whose underhand delivery will remind veteran American League players of Jack Warhop of the old New York Highlanders, is said to have a priceless pitching asset in control.

Buddy Myer, obtained at great price in playing talent from the Boston Red Sox, will play third base. Ossie Bluege moving to the left of the infield to make room for him.

Jimmy Welsh will take care of shortstop with Cronin, a promising young shortstop, acting as understudy. Stuffy Stewart and Minter Hayes will play second base between them. Stewart seems to become faster as he grows older and he has practically made good on his third trial although he may not play regularly.

On the Florida's previous visit to the Washington camp he has found the manager, Bucky Harris, playing his position.

Joe Judge has no opposition at first base but a substitute has not yet been elected. The chances of Harley Boss, a Little Rock recruit, were hurt when he suffered injuries to his hands in an automobile accident. Charlie Gooch, former Little Rock third baseman, detecting evidences of crowding around third, announced himself as a former first baseman and is attempting to qualify as far away as he can get from his regular position and still remain on the infield.

Muddy Ruel, the Senators' star catcher, is going through a systematic course of training for his arm and is doing little actual catching in advance of the opening of the season.

Benny Tate, long the second string Washington receiver, is again available and Ed Kenna and Al Boal are willing to accept the other nominations.

White Manager Johnson concentrates on the pitchers, four coaches keep the rest of the recruits moving. Zeb Milan and Patsy Garrity make them cry and Nick Altrock and Al Schacht, the comedians, force laughs from them.

Clearwater, Fla.—Doug McWeeny finally has capitulated to the persuasive arguments of Manager Robinson and affixed his name to a Brooklyn Robins' contract.

Doug signed at a salary said to be $12,000, considerably below what he had been asking.

Daddy Vance, the strike-out king who is a holdout, announced yesterday he was going back to Homosassa, Fla., where he is building a vacation camp, unless the management agreed to give him the $25,000 he wants.

The Brooklyn board of directors has announced their top figure is $22,500.

St. Petersburg, Fla.—The fans may have an opportunity to see a bearded outfielder in action with the Braves this summer. Richard McKay, former member of the House of David nine, has applied for a chance. He wrote that he was no longer a disciple but said he had kept his beard.

Bradenton, Fla.—Manager Bill Carrigan of the Red Sox believes in individual attention as strongly as any modern educator, so he has divided his somewhat unwieldy squad of 40 players into two classes without regard to ability. One class will practice in the morning, the other in the afternoon.

San Antonio, Texas—Andy Reese, Jimmy Welsh and Jack Cummings have various and assorted injuries to show for a six and a half inning practice game the New York Giants played here yesterday. Reese and Welsh passed out of the game via the "Charlie-Horse" route. Cummings' right thumb was injured by a foul tip.

Dallas, Texas—Elgin Wilson, a young right-handed rookie from Milford, Texas, may answer the supplication of the White Sox for another good pitcher. Wilson pitched seven innings of steady baseball for the regulars in yesterday's camp game, holding the "Goofs" to six scattered hits.

Phoenix, Ariz.—Detroit Tiger pitchers were permitted to cut loose yesterday for the first time since the training season opened. Of the veterans, Lil Stoner looked especially good, while Johnny Prudhomme and Lefty Barnes, recruits, also pleased Manager Harris. Roy Johnson finally put in an appearance. Chick Galloway was the only missing hand today.

Fort Myers, Fla.—After their 2 to 0 defeat at the hands of the St. Louis Cardinals in their first exhibition game of the season, the Philadelphia Athletics were back at their training camp today convinced that they need more practice. They hoped, however, to even the count with the Cardinals in the return engagement here today.

Winter Haven, Fla.—The "go easy" order at the Philadelphia Nationals' training base was lifted by Manager Shotton today and from now on the workouts will become harder and last long.

West Palm Beach, Fla.—Eddie Grimes, who was with Tulsa last year, will be the St. Louis Browns' regular third sacker this year if preseason predictions of Manager Dan Howley bear fruit. Another rookie getting special attention is Dick Ferrell, highly touted backstop.

Los Angeles, Cal.—Some light as to what batting order Manager Joe McCarthy proposes to use in this year's National League campaign was expected during the Cubs' first exhibition game against Los Angeles today. Manager McCarthy has been worried about that question ever since Rogers Hornsby joined his forces. Experiments indicate he will use English as lead-off man, following with Clyde Beck, Kiki Cuyler, Rogers Hornsby, Hack Wilson and Riggs Stephenson in order.

Paso Robles, Cal.—Barney Dreyer, owner of the Pittsburgh Pirates, said today he had offered Paul Waner a $1,000 increase over last year of $12,500 and had mentioned $38,000 for Lloyd, a $1,500 increase. This figure is $3,000 under the Waners' demand.

Indications Prevail of Oil

The Geological survey says that an indication is an upfold in rocks, and such a fold is dependent, that are buried beneath formations of more recent geological age that were not subjected to the surface. Such upfolds—called "anticlines"—are regarded as favorable to the accumulation of oil and it is for this reason that oil prospectors endeavor to locate such structures.

Falls Dead After Circling Track

Peoria, Ill., March 8 (AP).—A schoolboy who couldn't make the team died a champion yesterday, because he wouldn't quit. Today East Peoria High School was closed in respect to Dwight Carlock, 15 years old, who fell dead after circling the running track at the school trying to make the track team.

Dwight wasn't quite good enough to make the football team. He also failed to win a place on the basketball squad. "Didn't have the stuff," they said.

"Dilation of the heart," said a physician who examined Dwight's body last night.

"Too much courage," corrected John Fritz, track coach.

We are unmerciful animals, more of us. The person who suffers like a hot tea bottle because he is required to become his religious every morning and substitute it every night—day after day, month after month—a long and dreary round of monotony—wails like a fire alarm when one little button comes off.—Ferdinand Ougensian.

Speakeasies Have Changed Policy

Some Have Removed Their Bars and Others Show More Care in Serving Customers Because of Jones Bill Penalties.

What effect the recently enacted Jones law will have on the bootleggers of the country is still to be seen but locally the stringent penalty which may be imposed under the new law has caused some hardships among those who need an "eye opener". With a five year sentence and a $10,000 fine as the penalty which may be imposed, it is said that many of the local speakeasy places have changed their policy. Some have gone out of business, at least temporarily until the attitude of federal judges toward the new law has been ascertained.

Local Guardsmen Pass With Honors

Major O. R. Hiltbrant Proud of Showing His Soldiers Made Before Inspecting Officers Thursday—To Inspect Battery B Tonight.

Local National Guardsmen proved themselves soldiers to the core when given a very rigid inspection by Major Lucien H. Dallaferra of the regular army and Lieutenant Colonel William R. White of the state militia Thursday night at the 156th Field Artillery armory here.

The inspecting officers were very well pleased with the Kingston Guardsmen and made the fact known in congratulatory remarks to Major O. R. Hiltbrant, commander of the local units of the First Battalion, 156th Field Artillery. The major has every reason to be proud of his boys, and needless to say he is very much so.

Thursday night it was Battery A and the Combat Train that were under the scrutinizing eyes of the inspecting officers; tonight it will be Battery B, commanded by Captain E. C. Lawson, Captain E. L. Cashin of Battery A and Captain Carlton S. Preston of the Combat Train had every Guardsman drilled well for the inspection and their strictness concerning neatness was plainly manifested by those under their command.

Prize Winners.
Prizes were given for the neatest looking uniforms and every one of the Guardsmen tried his best to take the honors, and indeed it is an honor to pass such a test with regular army officers as judges. Sergeant John F. Roosa and Corporal John Bechtold were the prize winners in Battery A and Private Joe Vosdik, prominent as a National Guard boxer, and Sergeant Edward Shader were honor men in the Combat Train. Each man received $10 put up by Major O. R. Hiltbrant.

Men very much interested in the inspection were Captain Babcock, Captain Victor L. Oleson and Sergeant James M. McCabe of the regular army, instructors of the Guardsmen. Captain Babcock, who is stationed at Newburgh, is senior instructor of the regiment, while Captain Oleson and Sergeant McCabe, who reside in Kingston, are instructors for the First Battalion.

Inspection Again Tonight.
Tonight at 8 o'clock Battery B will "fall in" at the armory for inspection. Captain Lawson is sure that his men will make a fine impression and hopes that there will be a goodly number out to see them. The public is cordially invited to the inspection, especially young men interested in soldiery. This will afford a fine opportunity to see the valuable lessons taught Guardsmen and the advantages a young man has by being one.

Central Hudson To Pay by Check

Beginning in April, the Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corporation will institute additional safeguards for company and employe moneys now distributed in the form of cash. The new practices will to a large extent relieve district office employes of the responsibility of handling large amounts of money.

All wage and salary employes will be paid by check instead of by cash, according to a statement by P. A. Burnes, secretary of the corporation. Cash payments of wages and salaries have always carried the possibility of loss by the employe, a loss which could not be made up in any way. In the payment by check, this possibility is eliminated, for if a check is lost, a duplicate can be obtained.

Many a man is generous to a fault who is stingy with his virtues.

Find Highest Waterfall in Marquesas Islands

Marquesas Islands. The highest waterfall in the world has been discovered on the French island of Nukuhiva, one of the largest of the Marquesas. It is estimated that the water tumbles from a height of 1,100 feet. Ordinarily the width is about ten feet, but this is enormously increased during the rainy season. The fall is three miles from the sea.

The "High Hat"

It had always been Sambo's ambition to own a fur coat, and after years of saving he was at last able to buy it. As one morning he was strutting down the street, a friend approached him. "Ah, really can't tell 'bout the weather," he replied carelessly. "Ah, ain't looked at de paper today!"—Boston Globe.

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT
By F. A. WALKER

THE TIME TO RETIRE

IF THE title of this article is slightly confusing let yourself be straightened out by the statement that it is to be a little talk between ourselves about a questioning letter received from a reader. He asks, "When should a man retire? I am forty-one years old, have been reasonably successful and can live comfortably, supporting my family of three up to their usual habits, if I do not do any more work. Do you think that a man under such circumstances is doing right to retire from active work?" The quickest and shortest answer is "No."

No man has a right to discontinue being productive so long as it is possible for him to be a producer. The great trouble with the world right now is that too many men have "retired." They have stopped giving themselves and other people the full measure of their abilities to contribute to the wealth and happiness and good of the world. A good many of them, the great majority, are not rich. They work perhaps, but they fall far short of their capabilities.

I read the other day an article on the bricklaying trade and the comparative cost of that part of house construction which consists of putting together bricks and mortar. In the records of a construction company were found figures showing that twenty or so years ago a day's work for a mason and his helper consisted in laying 1,500 bricks in eight hours. The day's result at the present time is just one-third of that amount, 500 bricks, although the pay for the eight hours of labor is far more than the old pay.

It is not difficult to see where the bricklayer is cheating himself as well as the rest of the world. He is not producing all that he might and therefore he is not getting as much for his efforts as he might well get if he did his work as efficiently as he might. And he along with other workmen in the building trades by their lack of production make construction so expensive that many who would build homes if they could do so at reasonable prices continue without them.

What the bricklayers do with their hands and tools, the writer of the letter wants to do with all his capabilities and all his energies. He wants to cut his production down to the vanishing point and be a drone for the rest of his life. The ownership of wealth does not entitle a man to be a loafer either physically or mentally. No man has a right at the age of forty-one to forewarn all the possibilities that he has to do the world and his neighbor service by his efforts.

If he has money enough, let him quit adding to his fortune and let him devote what he can earn to bettering mankind and his condition. Let him do anything but be a human being with a brain of whom other people can truthfully say: "There goes a man who, except for spending his money, does nothing in the world that is useful or helpful." Don't quit on the job of life. Don't say: "I'm through because I've got my share." Keep producing until the last revolution of the wheels, till the last throes of the engine. ## Ball Committees Report Progress

The large number of Benedictine Auxiliary members who attended the regular monthly meeting held at the home of the president, Mrs. N. D. J. Murphy, 5 Andrew street, Thursday afternoon, heard encouraging reports from those working on committees preparing for the Easter Monday ball to be held at the New York state armory for the benefit of the hospital.

All of the committee heads reported that they are meeting with success from all angles, which forecasts that the Benedictine Ball will be one of the most successful ever held. This is just what the auxiliary hopes to do, make the event one of the outstanding social successes of the year, and thus realize a worthy sum for the Benedictine.

The ticket committee made a glowing report at Thursday's meeting. People throughout the county are purchasing tickets in large numbers, which denotes that all Clister communities will be well represented at the ball. Then there was the very pleasing report of the flower and cigar booth chairmen. The ladies in charge of this feature of the ball made known that remarkable progress is being made by the workers under their charge, and they are very much pleased with their progress.

The refreshment and entertainment committee report was marked by all the pleasing features that characterized the others and proved that the ladies of this committee are doing their share to make their end of the benefit ball a real success.

An Auto Collision. It was reported to the police department Thursday afternoon that while George Pratt of Lincoln Park, driving a Maxwell car, was pulling away from the curb in front of the Telephone building on Broadway, he was in collision with a Packard car of Joseph Netburn of 11 Len Court. Both cars were slightly damaged.

Geranium Has Fatal Attraction for Bug

Washington.—If Japanese beetles start hanging around the home garden, some attractive beds of geraniums probably will reduce their numbers. Charles H. Ballou of the United States bureau of entomology, Washington, finds that these beetles feed on cultivated geraniums and that the diet paralyzes them.
